Great design creates great value

There is no compromise for taking the time required to create beautiful, functional and efficient designs. This investment in great design will last more than your lifetime and the value created will be more than simple financial gain.

Great designs come from great design briefs. We will help you outline your expectations and needs for your project to achieve a clear and concise brief. Then our exciting journey together starts.

Starting the design process

Once you have confirmed/adjusted your brief, and once we have completed Stage 1 Establishment of our Process Wheel, we can jump into creating Preliminary Designs that will bring all our ideas to life!

This will be your first opportunity to view and adjust the design, and on completion, get industry feedback in relation to construction costs and timeframes. This relates to all project types, from new homes, renovations, commercial and remedial, to interior design. During Stage 2 Design, we will also offer you the opportunity to experience your design as a Virtual Reality (VR) tour as well as providing comprehensive interior design packages.

NEWHOMES

Your slice of paradise

A new home is a reflection of your personality, style and lifestyle. It should be designed to bring comfort, pleasure and ease to your day-to-day living routines, whether that be organising your young family for school, accommodating guests or just unwinding after a busy day.

We pay extra attention to making sure the fundamental decisions are correct before further exploring your home design. This critical thinking relates to the absolute best position of your home on your site and the organisation of spaces within that location. We then work to create areas in your home that can adapt as your family grows and your lifestyle needs change.

Adding value to your existing home

Renovation projects are always about working together to find the absolute best design solutions to suit your needs. These solutions should be sympathetic to what you already have in order to best manage costs as you want. The end result will be a home which perfectly complements your lifestyle and desired level of investment.

Renovating is a great way to add more functionality, space and appeal to your existing home. Whether you simply need an extra bedroom, or are looking for a complete reassessment of the layout of your home - we can design the beautiful spaces you want.

Based on the ideas and direction you bring, we will assess your existing home to find the right balance between cost and results. As always, the design outcomes will be the very best solutions for your design brief, and be guided by good, clean, critical thinking.

Making your investment work for you

Working in the commercial field brings together all of our skills and experience. The objective is always to assess the bigger picture and explore the options in order to assure returns. Simplicity is key in this field to ensure our designs not only meet the brief but also come in under budget.

We understand that investing in a commercial building project is all about maximising returns and keeping maintenance to a minimum. While we bring our design ethics and expertise to any commercial building project, it is important to us that your property can be maintained effectively and efficiently, thus ensuring the future value of your asset.

Clever design will not only allow you to gain wide versatility in how your commercial space can be used, but will also ensure your property looks and performs as it should.

REMEDIAL

Reinstating value and future-proofing your asset

While we are first-and-foremost professional designers, we are also remedial experts. We have specialised in this field for 15 years and have successfully remediated more than 200 stand-alone homes, multi-unit apartments, commercial buildings and high-rise structures. Expert knowledge of building science is the backbone of compliance, and we love the challenge this field of work brings.

Creative Space has worked closely with the New Zealand Institute of Building Surveyors and studied critical building science papers to gain a deeper understanding of the building code. This knowledge allows us to confidently work outside of the typical building code 'acceptable solutions' into the specific design realm of 'alternative solutions'. This allows us to utilise robust solutions and advanced techniques to save money and time while ensuring performance.

Beautiful on the inside too

Our Interior Design service is an opportunity to ensure the internal experience of your completed project is as impressive and as functional as the exterior. Alternatively, if you have an existing home or business, this can be offered as a stand-alone service improving what you already have. All interior design services are tailored to your exact needs and follow the stages in our service wheel.

We invite you to consult with one of our highly experienced interior designers who will find out more about your taste and preferences in order to develop a clear and concise design brief. As per our design process, we then develop a CAD model of your project using the appropriate colours, textures, materials, lighting, and furnishings.

You can then view this in a printed form, or explore our interior design in person through our Virtual Reality system. This design then enters a technical phase in order to provide the information required to bring the project to life.

Our process is clear

Our team

Based in our studios in the North and South islands, we are fortunate to have an incredible team of talented, interesting, and intelligent individuals. Each brings their own unique experience, skills and capabilities to the table and enjoys working together in our highly diverse, technically-advanced office environments.

No project is handled by just one person as we draw on the value that everyone brings to their role. Every project is very much a team effort, and we prize collaboration during every stage of service. For our team this means learning about the roles around them and always having an available pathway forward. We are proud to say the Creative Space family has many team members who have been with the business for a decade or more.

For our clients, this means the people you are working with are invested in their business and care about the success of your project. This also means that there will always be someone capable and experienced communicating with you on a regular basis as well as looking out for your needs.

Let's chat

There really is no substitute to meeting in person (either face to face or online). Our senior consultants are available to work with you no matter where you are based in New Zealand, or abroad. We have projects underway throughout the country, all supported by our talented teams operating in the North and South islands.

Your first meeting with us is a chance to get to know each other. We will take an initial look at your site (either in person or online), have a brief chat about what you are hoping to achieve, and then provide a proposal for the provision of architectural services.

We look forward to starting your new architectural or interior design project with you soon.
